Making this bar be it's own component and then adding to all pages views would probably help

Might want to do full address for events. The mapping feature is very cool if I have time.

Could allow for adding of a background image for the owner of an events page

Could allow for liking of comments or of the event

The ability to make a list of items to bring would be a cool extra feature in addition to the comments section. Even the ability to set up a list of needed items?
